GOODNESS GAMES!

ORGANIZED BY GOODNESS ROCKS!

LET'S ROCK THE WORLD WITH GOODNESS!

Goodness Rocks and the Goodness Games encourage people of all ages to do acts of goodness!

INTRODUCTION

Welcome to our Goodness Games curriculum guide! This program is a 17-day experience intended to help you rock the world with goodness – in other words, to inspire and equip you to do acts of goodness and make the world a better place!

This curriculum guide features 17 different acts of goodness that people of all ages can do. All of these acts of goodness are wonderful things to do every day of the year, and we should aim to do them as often as possible. In fact, you may already be doing many or most of these acts of goodness on a regular basis – in that case, congratulations and keep up the great work! If you haven't been doing some of these acts of goodness as frequently, now is a perfect time to start adding them into your lifestyle!

Each act of goodness is featured in a separate entry, which includes a short description/ definition of the act of goodness, along with discussion questions and activities designed to help you carry out these acts of goodness in meaningful ways. Relevant Bible verses are also included.

Feel free to do these acts of goodness in any order, and include additional acts of goodness as you feel led! You may want to participate in the Goodness Games activities by yourself, or with a group such as your family, professional colleagues, fellow students, local club/organization, sports team, and so on. We encourage you to make doing acts of goodness part of your lifestyle and personality – you may want to do the Goodness Games program several times a year in order to make the world a better place! Enjoy rocking the world with goodness!

ADDITIONAL FORMATS

As another option, you might want to focus on a particular theme or in a particular area during the program. Anytime we do something that would be considered “good,” there are positive spillover effects for others in our lives. For example, you might decide to be good to yourself/ your body and focus on improving your physical fitness during this program. While it might seem that taking care of your health primarily benefits yourself, it actually is an act of goodness that helps others as well. If your health is better, you will have more time and energy to spend with people you love, and an increased ability to participate in a wider range of activities with them. Being good to yourself can bring increased joy to others!

Similarly, perhaps you have been thinking about starting a new business. Running a new business in a field that you enjoy will not only be a blessing to you, but it will also be an act of goodness for others by providing useful products and/or services to the community, and potentially jobs and income for future employees. Likewise, participating in the visual, performing, and creative arts during this program will bring you joy, and may also lead to the production of plays, performances, and works of art that will put smiles on the faces of others – now that's a good thing to do!

So if there's an activity/ area (or more than one) that you feel led to focus on for the length of this program, go for it! Doing something that brings you joy is generally going to be good for those around you as well!

Here are some areas/ themes that you might want to focus on during the Goodness Games:

- Physical activity/ sports

- Health and nutrition
- Visual, performing, and creative arts
- Business/ entrepreneurship
- Community service

What are some other specialty areas that you and/or others might want to focus on? Remember, when you spend time doing things that you are interested in and that you enjoy, it will typically be good for people around you as well!

EXPLORING THE MEANING OF “GOOD”

What does it mean to do acts of goodness, or acts that are “good”?

While there are many definitions of the word “good” that we can use, let’s draw on a definition from the Bible. In the account of creation in Genesis 1, God declares seven times that some aspect of creation is “good.” We’re going to focus on two particular aspects of creation that God considers “good” – the formation of light which occurred on the first day of creation, and the bringing forth of grass, seed-bearing plants, and fruit trees with seed-bearing fruit on the third day of creation.

Let’s begin by taking a look at light. If light is “good,” then any time we bring light into a situation or circumstance, we are doing an act of goodness. This applies in actual or physical situations, such as when electricians bring light to developing areas of the world, and it can also apply in a metaphorical or spiritual sense, such as when we bring light and joy into challenging or discouraging situations, or when we “shed light” in different areas by providing illumination and insight to others in need of clarity.

Similarly, when we think about grass, seed-bearing plants, and fruit trees with seed-bearing fruit, we see that these forms of creation essentially provide nourishment to humans and much of the natural world. Since grass, plants, and trees are considered to be “good,” then any time we provide nourishment to those in need, such as when we donate groceries and prepare meals for the homeless, senior citizens, and even our own families, we are doing an act of goodness. Likewise, we are also doing good when we provide nourishment and energy in a spiritual or emotional way, such as when a parent, coach, teacher, or friend gives a word of encouragement and instruction to others in their lives.

So to offer a simplified definition, doing acts of goodness or rocking the world with goodness means doing anything which brings more light, brightness, nourishment, and encouragement into the world!

THE SIGNIFICANCE OF “17”

As mentioned earlier, the Goodness Games program consists of 17 days of activities that are intended to help you rock the world with goodness! What is the significance of 17?

First of all, 17 is the numerical value of the Hebrew word for “good,” which is “tov.” In Hebrew, each letter of the alphabet (aleph-bet) has a certain numerical value; these numerical values of the individual letters are added together to determine the total value of a word, known as the gematria value. The Hebrew word “tov” is made of the letters tet + vav + vet (bet), with a gematria value of 9 + 6 + 2 =17.

Secondly, if we take a look at 2 Chronicles 29, we see that the cleansing of the temple under the leadership of King Hezekiah took 16 days, with a period of worship beginning on the following day. We are similarly called to reestablish practices of goodness here on this planet, so let's try using a complementary format: 16 days of practicing goodness, followed by a day of reflection, celebration, and planning for the future.

Finally, rocking the world with goodness takes a lot of strength and agility, so let's incorporate the Olympics as part of a format for success! Contemporary Olympic Games follow a 17-day schedule, featuring the world's best athletes and competitive teams demonstrating power, finesse, and determination. Likewise, we can come together from nations around the world and use our individual and collective strengths and abilities to rock the world with goodness!

And He has given both him and Oholiab son of Ahisamak, of the tribe of Dan, the ability to teach others. And let us run with perseverance the race marked out for us, fixing our eyes on Jesus, the pioneer and perfecter of our faith. For the joy set before Him He endured the cross, scorning its shame, and sat down at the right hand of God. Consider Him who endured such opposition from sinners, so that you will not grow weary and lose heart.

Day 16. DO AN ACT OF GOODNESS (YOUR CHOICE)

DO AN ACT OF GOODNESS (YOUR CHOICE): The world needs more goodness. What can you do to make the world a better place?

Perhaps there is another type of act of goodness that you think should be added to the Goodness Rocks list, or maybe you feel led to spend more time focusing on a particular act of goodness that you have already done – either way, enjoy spending time doing acts of goodness that are meaningful to you!

Discussion Questions:

Once you have decided what type of act of goodness you will focus on today, you may want to create your own discussion questions and activities for this particular day! You can also use these questions to guide your reflection process:

- Which type of act of goodness did you decide to focus on today? Why did you choose this particular act of goodness?
- How do you think doing this particular act of goodness might help make the world a better place?
- If you know someone else who is participating in these Goodness Rocks activities, ask them what type of act of goodness they are focusing on today, and why they chose the particular act of goodness that they did!

Activity Ideas:

- Look at the world around you, and find ways to make it a better place and bring goodness to people's lives! You may want to repeat some of the acts of goodness that you have already done, or do a new kind of act of goodness!

Relevant Bible Verses:

- Micah 6:8 ~ He has shown you, o mortal, what is good. And what does the Lord require of you? To act justly and to love mercy and to walk humbly with your God.
- Philippians 2:4 ~ Let each of you look not only to his own interests, but also to the interests of others.
- Colossians 3:23-24 ~ Whatever you do, work at it with all your heart, as working for the Lord, not for human masters, since you know that you will receive an inheritance from the Lord as a reward. It is the Lord Christ you are serving.

Day 17. R.A.P. (REVIEW AND PLAN)

R.A.P.(REVIEW AND PLAN): Hold a R.A.P. session/party! Review the different acts of goodness that you have done, and Plan more acts of goodness to do in the future!

Here are some questions that you may want to ask as you review/ recall the acts of goodness that you have done, and plan additional ways to rock the world with goodness in the future!

- What have you enjoyed the most about participating in these Goodness Rocks activities?
- What gave you the most pride and satisfaction in connection with these activities?
- Did you experience any difficulties or frustrations during these activities? How did you handle these challenges?
- Are there any ways that you might participate differently in these activities in the future? (e.g., participate with a group, do the activities during a different time of the day/evening, share information and photos on social media about the different activities, keep a daily journal, etc.)
- What lessons have you learned about yourself, others, rocking the world with goodness, or anything else while participating in these activities?
- Can you think of a particular community, person(s), or geographical area that might especially appreciate and benefit from receiving acts of goodness? You might want to do some of the Goodness Rocks activities with these people or areas in mind in the future!
- Which individuals and groups might you invite and encourage to rock the world with goodness in the future?

Otherwise, when he has laid a foundation and isn’t able to finish everything, all who see it begin to mock him, saying, “This man began to build and wasn’t able to finish!”
- Proverbs 16:9 ~ A man’s heart plans his way, but the Lord directs His steps.
- Proverbs 3:5-6 ~ Trust in the Lord with all your heart, and lean not on your own understanding; in all your ways acknowledge Him, and He shall direct your paths.
